

NEW YORK AND TORONTO COMPARISON FOR COMPANIES THAT ARE OPENING OFFICES IN BOTH CITIES

INTRODUCTION

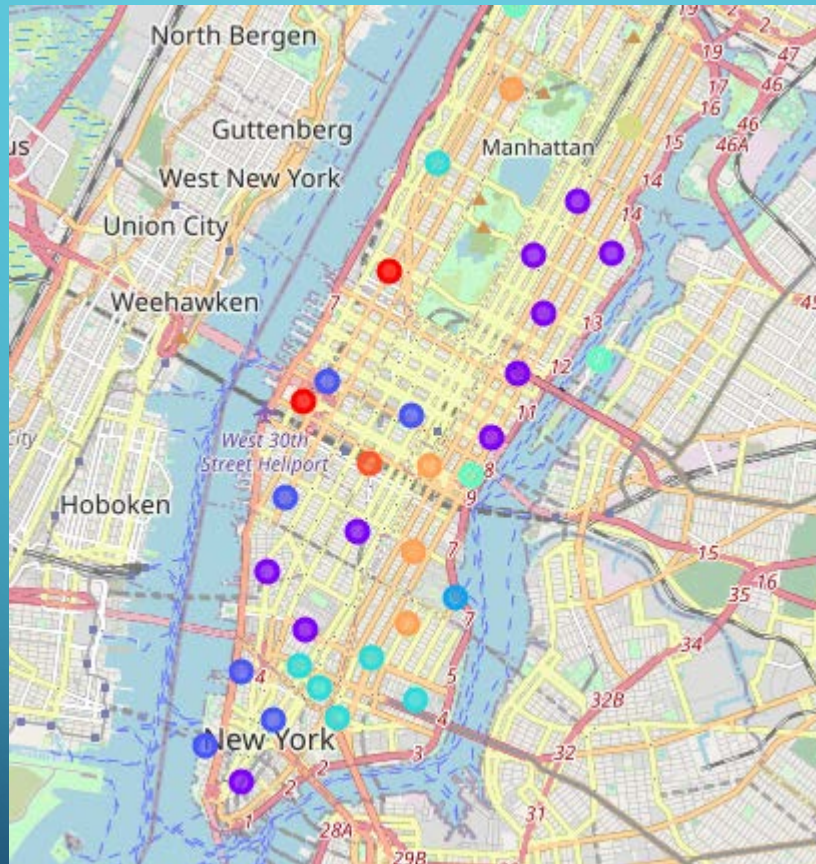

- Many companies have locations in New York (United States) and in Toronto (Canada), specially in the technology sector.
- How to identify neighborhoods in Toronto that are similar to the one in New York.
- All those US companies that plan to open offices in Toronto would be interested in this comparison.

DATA ACQUISITION AND CLEANING

- Several data sources used, such as Wikipedia, Foursquare and US zip code.
- Items not valuable to the project were removed and headers were standardized.

A detailed map of the Greater Toronto Area (GTA) showing bus routes and stations. The map includes labels for various regions such as North York, Scarborough, York, East York, and Etobicoke. Major highways like 401, 404, and 409 are highlighted in red. Numerous bus routes are indicated by numbers along the roads, and bus stations are marked with purple dots. The map also shows the location of Pearson International Airport and Lake Ontario.

NEW YORK CLUSTERED NEIGHBORHOODS

RESULT AND CONCLUSION

- Once the neighborhoods from Toronto and New York were combined, it was noticed that 'Cluster 0' were made by American and Canadian items. But Cluster 1, 2, 3 and 4 were made only with Canadian elements.
- Inside Cluster 0, there were 83 elements from Toronto as exemplified by the image in the right side of this chart.
